

SUPERYACHT
TIMES.COM

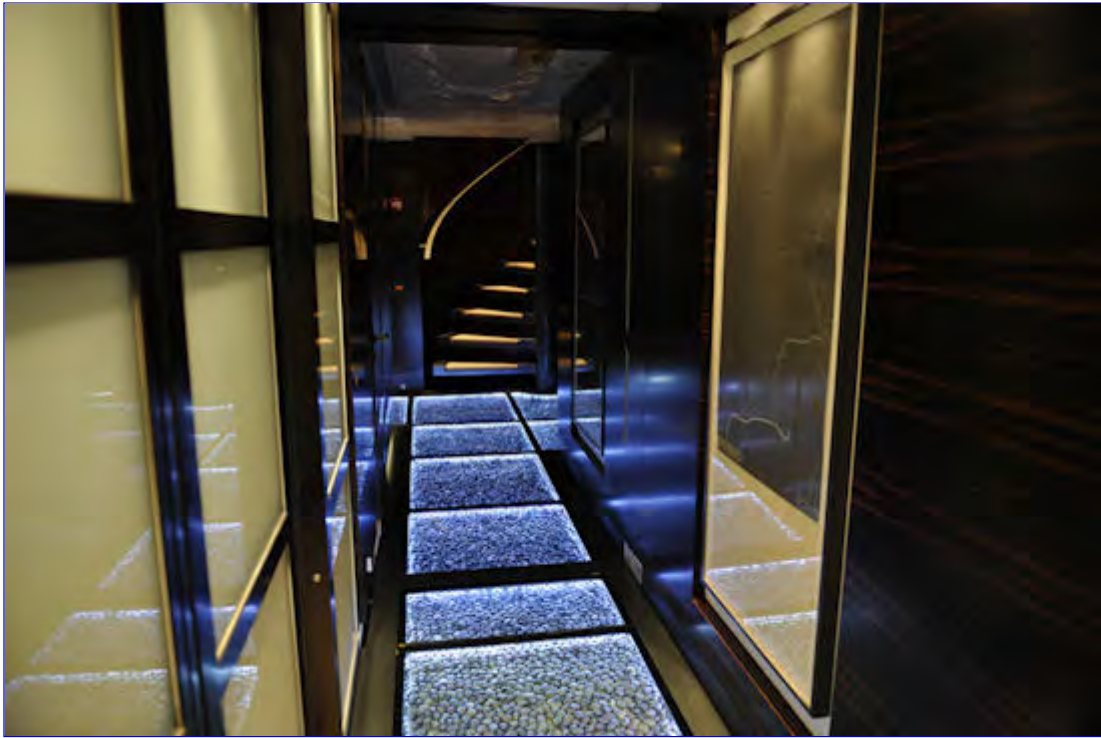

Heesen Yachts launches motor yacht Man of Steel

Wednesday, 17 December 2008

Three years later after the great success of the first Man of Steel, Heesen is extremely honoured to launch the second Man of Steel, a 50 meter displacement motor yacht for the same owner. It is the largest designed and built displacement yacht in the 30 years of Heesen's history which makes this launching even more special.

During the last phase of the construction of the first 37 meter Man of Steel, ideas were born to develop a full customized displacement yacht. These ideas have been carried out and three years ago when the 37 meter was delivered the contract for the beautiful 50 meter project was signed.

In every aspect it can be said that the match of exterior design by Omega and Heesen and the interior by Mr. Marc Wallace has proven to be excellent. The interior of this stunning vessel is a fine combination of the use of Macassar veneer with black steel accents and various features as stone floors and an illuminated MD lobby floor. All is completed with a fine mixture of an excellent fabric selection. Layout with spectacular owner's area on the wheelhouse deck, VIP stateroom with open able balcony, spacious salon / dining area on the main deck, 3 guest cabins with entertainment room on the lower deck. This and many more have contributed to this very unique yacht.